

Timothy Donovan – Chief Operating Officer, Shangri-La Industries, LLC

During his 13-year tenure with BP, Mr. Donovan held several global leadership positions in both the US and the UK. Mr. Donovan developed his project management experience leading several large-scale BP projects including a global information systems implementation and an organizational re-design in two major restructuring initiatives. He gained unique insight into the corporate dynamic and financial performance of BP on a multi-national level as a key member of the Refining & Marketing Strategy and Planning team while based in the London headquarters. As the Director of Strategy and Marketing Performance, Mr. Donovan oversaw the global marketing and advertising budget as well as spearheaded landmark programs in the sustainability space including the launch of Helios House, an eco-friendly petrol station in Los Angeles, California.

The successful implementation of these projects inspired Mr. Donovan to move his primary focus from the energy sector to the broader sustainability arena. He then relocated to Los Angeles, California through a partnership with world-renowned sustainability expert John Picard. As Managing Partner of John Picard and Associates, he advised some of the world's largest companies on the profitability of a progressive environmental agenda. In 2008, Mr. Donovan joined Shangri-La Industries, a diversified firm integrating environmentally-conscious development, as Chief Operating Officer. Shangri-La Industries focuses on sustainable construction and innovative green technology to create the next generation of business solutions.

Mr. Donovan earned a Bachelor of Arts from John Carroll University in University Heights, Ohio and a Masters of Business Administration from The Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio.
